REQUEST

SEN. HOLMBERG REQUESTED that his remarks be printed in the Journal, which request was granted.

Members of the Senate, continuing a tradition which is actually many decades old, members of the House and Senate represented the North Dakota Legislature at the January 20th inauguration of the President of the United States. Along with myself, Senator Thane, and Senator Lindaas represented the Senate, Representatives Nicholas, Mickelson, and Guleson represented the House.

Each person who stayed at our hotel receive a small gift bag including a letter welcoming us to the celebration. The hotel people, I will let you know, know that we exist, as I quote from the letter: "The weatherman has promised not to pull the dirty tricks he pulled on the second Reagan Inaugural. We will not have a high of 4 degrees as we did on that day in 1985. However, it is going to be cold this weekend - maybe not as cold as North Dakota, but still cold...." Although the weather was cool, the hundreds of thousands in attendance did not complain at all.

A writer in The Washington Post commented that a Republican at the inauguration of Bill Clinton would have feelings akin to attending an ex-spouses wedding reception. Well, Madame President, that feeling was not evident in the crowds this Senator observed.

From the invocation presented by the Reverend Billy Graham, participating in his seventh inaugural, to the National Anthem sung by Santita Jackson, daughter of Jesse Jackson, the inauguration ceremonies can best be described as awesome. People from around the country and from around the world, people from every walk of life joined movie stars, governors, officials of every description, including state legislators to celebrate the 208th year of the constitutional process which is America.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank our congressional delegation, who helped us with tickets to the ceremony and invited us to breakfast in the Dirksen Senate office building the morning of the inauguration, along with all other North Dakotans who were in attendance.

And last, but really first, we thank the legislature for selecting us to represent them at this inauguration ceremony, and would suggest that if you are ever given the opportunity to attend, you will not be disappointed.

Thank you, Madame President.
